

In the employee page (<https://hrmaster.com.au/#/employees>), under the WORK DETAIL TAB, a function should calculate the weekly, annual and hourly rate of pay based on the weekly hours (4 rows underneath). So when I type in $20 per hour and the weekly Hours is 38, it should display a correct amount in all 3 fields. This is generating strange data today. It worked last week so I think it could be issues with upgrade.

In the employee page (<https://hrmaster.com.au/#/employees>), I tried to add a new employee. It did not INSERT INTO the database. I entered an employee named Laurie Vella in the employees interface. I got a confirmation message saying it was successful but it did not INSERT INTO to the database. The person’s name was Laurie Vella and it should have been a new entry with an id of 573.

So I had to add him another way. I did this by entering him into the HRM User interface first and then added the rest by editing him in the Employee interface. Please fix so they can also be added in employees interface.

In the employee page (<https://hrmaster.com.au/#/employees>), when I type a log I have the ability to add a file and Tag an employee.... Both these functions appeared today to have stopped working correctly. I noticed last night an employee who should have been tagged was not appearing in the interface even though, they are appeared in the db. Please fix.

Workers Compensation

Workers Compensation

Recieved an email from thew service manager at City Ford Sydney regarding a workplace injury. The email was attached to the injury form in HRM. Matthew was lifting tyres in the workshop and hurt his bicep. He said it was due to a pre existing injury from playing cricket.

Workers Compensation Medical Issue

Received email from Michael McCauley with medical certificates attached.

72/3000

Will Investigate Further

Will forward them to the insurer. I have already advised them this was a pre-existing injury. Add the medical certificate flag as regardless of the workers comp issue, there is a pre-existing issue that may affect workplace performance. I will revisit this at a later date. I will also forward the email to PI claims.

Please fix the Inactive status bar so if selected, it updates the db. This worked at one point and then stopped. It should change the status value of 1 to 0 in the user table. The column is called active.

Also ensure if there is an End Date which appears in the past, the status is automatically set to inactive.

Lastly to finish off the issues in the brief, I have not tested the confidentiality flag because I ran out of time today. But I can do later. This completes those issues on the prior brief ☺
