Hi Aaron,

If you are just looking to find your initial date with the business, then I would refer you to the very first payslip you received from us. That will indicate when you started. You hinted you started during your HSC. Note that during a period of work experience, that does not count towards official employment with a business for any purpose.

Regards.

Hi,

Sorry to bug you, but did you manage to find out anything?

I am pretty sure I was a permanent casual as I work most days of the week.

Thanks,

Regards.

Hi,

Does that not include casual time spent working, because I started working in 2009 during my HSC. Or is that not included.

Regards.
